Detailed Action

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

Invention A: Claims 1-3 is directed to a method for translating environmental forecast data

Invention B: Claims 4 is directed to a method for trading electrical power

Invention C: Claims 5-18 is directed to a method for power exchange options market

Invention D: Claims 19-33 is directed to a method for operating a bilateral options market

Invention E: Claims 34 is directed to a method for mitigating risk across a power grid

Invention F: Claims 35-38 is directed to a method for operating a renewable power predication market

Invention G: Claims 39-43 is directed to a system for reducing risk for a renewable power generation facility

Invention H: Claims 44-45 is directed to a system for renewable power prediction

Invention I: Claims 46 is directed to an apparatus for translating environmental forecast data to an operations data

Invention J: Claims 47 is directed to an apparatus for trading electrical power produced from renewable energy

Invention K: Claims 48 is directed to an apparatus for operating a power exchange options market

Invention L: Claims 49 is directed to an apparatus for operating bilateral options market

Invention M: Claims 50 is directed to an apparatus for mitigating risk across a power grid

Invention A-M are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in the relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP 806.05(c)). In the instance case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed. Each combinations is described above where in no invention combination identified does not perform the other combinations invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
